CEFS Graduate Fellows!

The CEFS Graduate Fellowship was developed to provide financial support and recognition for future leaders, researchers and contributors in sustainable agriculture and local food systems while they engage in academic research to further the field of study.

The Fellowship provides graduate students $5,000 per year. Master’s students may apply for one year and PhD students for two years. Funds can be used at the students’ discretion!

To find the Overview, Eligibility Guidelines and Application, visit: go.ncsu.edu/cefs-fellows

The deadline for submission is: Thursday, April 22, 2021 at 11:59 PM

Questions? Contact Dr. Angel Cruz at aecruz@ncsu.edu - 919-513-0954

The CEFS Graduate Fellowship is supported by an endowment generously funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation.