The Center for Environmental Farming Systems (CEFS) is NOW accepting applications for Academic Year 2019-2020

CEFS NC State Graduate Fellows!

The CEFS NC State Graduate Fellowship was developed to provide financial support and recognition for the future leaders, researchers and contributors in sustainable agriculture and local food systems while they engage in academic research to further the field of study.

The Fellowship provides graduate students $5,000 per year. Master’s students may apply for one year and PhD students for two years. Funds can be used at the students’ discretion!

To find the Overview, Eligibility Guidelines and Application, visit: http://go.ncsu.edu/cefs-fellows

APPLY NOW!

The deadline for submission is: April 26, 2019 at 11:59pm

Questions? Contact Angel Cruz at aecruz@ncsu.edu - 919-513-0954

The CEFS Graduate Fellowship is supported by an endowment generously funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation.